Capozza Tile & Flooring is a family-owned business founded in Portland, Maine in 1974. Since that time, the company has been providing affordable and high quality flooring products to homes and businesses throughout Maine and New Hampshire.

Capozza Tile has expanded several times over the years, but it remains faithful to the principals of its founder,

Joseph A. Capozza Jr., who advised his sons "to treat everyone the way you want to be treated." The company is managed by the current President Joseph F. Capozza and employs several third generation family members.

Both the residential and commercial divisions of the company are located at the Capozza Tile & Flooring Center, 267 Warren Avenue in Portland. The company headquarters features a large showroom with a vast line of standard and unique products from well-respected American and world-wide companies.

The company also owns and operates the Old Port Specialty Tile Store at 59 Middle Street in the heart of Portland's Old Port District. The store features unique and rare tile, stone, glass and metal products. For many of these items the Old Port store is the exclusive distributor North of Boston.
